CREAMERYFRISCO LUMBER DEALERS
FOR THE OPEN SHOP

San Francisco, July 22.—Lumber yards and lumber schooners here will resume operations Tuesday. Employees who struck June 1 will be allowed to return to work at the same wages as before the strike and under open shop conditions, employers announced today, but if they do not return, non-union men will be employed.

State Labor Commissioner McLaughlin, who has been working for a settlement, stated today that the lumbermen will not return to work under these conditions.

Social

Swimming Party

A party of ten enjoyed a delightful plunge in the Rogue Thursday afternoon of last week. Part of the time was devoted to fancy work. Later a luncheon was served under the trees. A joy ride closed the gay festivities. The girls were the Misses Jeanette Moss, Allene Dunbar, Helen Witherspoon, Helen Layton, Marguerite Wible, Catherine Baker, Marjorie Larson, Valaska Truax and Gladys Swacker, and Mrs. Howard Shearer.

Sunday School Class Entertained

Miss Ethel McCallister pleasantly entertained members of her Sunday school class at her home on West B street Monday afternoon of last week. The little ladies enjoyed music during the afternoon. Miss Bertha Calhoun contributed to their entertainment a recitation, given in her usual pleasing manner. All helped to write a letter to their former teacher, Mrs. Swayze. Light refreshments were served.

Those present were Bertha Calhoun, Ina Peterson, Corlyss Courtney, Josephine Isham, Izora Keller, Lulu Garrett.

Flag Social

The W. R. C. flag social which was given Thursday afternoon, July 20, on the home lawn of Mrs. Lee Calvert proved a success, both financially and socially. Old time friends and members of the society responded royally. There were over 100 present. Also members of the G. A. R. were guests of honor for the afternoon. The lawn was an attractive setting for the pretty scene. Decorations of red, white and blue draperies were hung at the corners with flags. Flags were also used in the porch decorations. Rugs and lawn seats, together with small tables, on which were placed the latest magazines, gave an added touch to the comfortable and homey effect, and a cozy corner was screened from the west wind for the more elderly guests.

A great deal of credit is due the hostess, Mrs. Lee Calvert, for the royal good time enjoyed by all.

An interesting and entertaining program was enjoyed during the afternoon. Two readings, given by Mrs. Lloyd Dyer in her usual capable style, deserve special mention. A talking contest created a great deal of merriment among the happy crowd. Punch was served throughout the hours. Cake and coffee were the refreshments.

Mrs. Allison Hostess

Mrs. Jack Allison was charming hostess at the regular weekly meeting of the Spazetta club, held at the Spa parlors, Friday afternoon, July 21.

The hours were pleasantly spent by all. During the short business meeting, the subject being charity, the helping of destitute families was discussed and considered. The ladies plan to take up work along this line. Arrangements will be made for contributions to be given at next week's meeting.

Four vocal numbers, given by Mrs. Allison, with Mrs. Allen at the piano, were a feature of the afternoon's entertainment. An interchange of Ideas and patterns of fancy work of all kinds followed until refreshments were served. Novel little faces were marked in the ice cream with spices and candies, which was then topped with cones as dance caps and served with dainty little cookies.

Among the ladies present were the regular members, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Crouch, Mrs. Stone, Miss Stone, Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Charley Wittfort, Mrs. Hendricks, Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Albert Evenson, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Estelle Davidson, Mrs. N. E. Gilkinson, Mrs. Kelsor, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Sinebaugh, Mrs. Bardon, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Almada Allen, and Mrs. Frank Crouch, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crouch, of this city, were guests of the club.

Monday Afternoon Club

The regular members of the Monday afternoon Oregon club spent their regular meeting day of last week at the home of Mrs. J. P. Martin at 323 C street. The ladies enjoyed a pleasant afternoon in friendly visit over the fancy work in hand until the closing hours of the afternoon, when a tempting and delicious luncheon of string beans, sliced cucumbers, pickled sugar beets, sandwiches, cake, maple parfait, and coffee was served by the hostess.

Wednesday Afternoon Picnic

Wednesday afternoon, July 19, a number of North Tenth street friends spent in regular picnic style at Riverside park, the picnicers popular grounds of the season. The party consisted of Mesdames M. C. H. Day, J. M. Isham, C. R. Field, J. C. Calhoun, G. A. Taggart, the Misses Vivian Isham, Helen Field, Winifred Field, Mildred Taggart, Joy Hamrick, Iva Day, Ardis Isham and Bertha Calhoun, and Messrs. J. M. Isham, C. R. Field, J. C. Calhoun, M. C. H. Day, Paul Day, Lester Day, Howard Field, and Harold Isham.

Toward the close of the afternoon the merry crowd enjoyed a tempting luncheon served free picnic style.

Baptist Ladies' Aid Picnic

About two-thirty o'clock on the afternoon of July 19 friends and members of the Baptist Ladies' Aid society gathered at the city park and spent the afternoon in picnic revelry. During the afternoon some devoted the time to fancy work, and all enjoyed an all-around good time. At the supper hour a crowd of about fifty sat down to a sumptuous feed on the green.

At River Banks Ranch

A party composed of the Misses Mildred Black, Florence Smith, Lulu Darnielle, Edna Cornell, and Messrs. Wilkes, Mayhew, Goldenweck, Selby, Mason, Lindsey and Cornell, with Mrs. A. B. PROBE CAUSE OF OFFICERS' DEATH

San Antonio, July 22.—Colonel J. A. Gaston was instructed by the Southern department of the army today to go to Alpine from his headquarters at Marfa to investigate the shooting of Lieutenant-Colonel M. C. Butler. Gaston will decide whether Butler was killed in "the line of duty," which will determine whether his widow will get a pension. If Butler is shown to have had a moral right to be with Mrs. Spannall, he will be considered to have been shot while in "the line of duty."

The moral status of the case, from a military standpoint, rests on Gaston's report.

Colonel J. E. Muchert, of the Fourth Texas infantry, made the following detailed report of the affair: "Colonel Butler was sitting with other officers, citizens and me in front of the hotel about 8:45 p. m., July 20, when Mr. and Mrs. Spannall drove up in their car. Spannall called Butler to the car, reached back and opened the rear door and asked Butler to take the seat with Mrs. Spannall. Colonel Butler did so and Spannall immediately drove off around the corner of the hotel.

"After the car had proceeded about 600 yards into the residence district, Spannall shot and killed both Butler and Mrs. Spannall, firing several shots into each. He then walked to the jail and surrendered to the sheriff. "Just how the killing was done can not be positively stated, as there are no witnesses.

"Colonel and Mrs. Butler lived at the Hotel Holland, and both associated freely with the Spannalls. Spannall is proprietor of the hotel. Both couples took frequent drives in the Spannall car in the evening. Spannall seemed to be of an extremely jealous disposition. It is stated that he frequently had disagreements with his wife, who was very beautiful.

"The general opinion is that Mrs. Spannall never gave her husband any cause for jealousy, and the unanimous belief is that Butler was innocent of any wrong."

ARTILLERY ACTIONS
ON WESTERN FRONT

London, July 22.—A hail of artillery fire is sweeping both sides in the great battle line across Flanders. Official statements from both French and German commanders emphasized today the purely artillery character of the day's fighting.

There were only a few spots along the great front where men in masses clashed. For the most part it was a give-and-take affair of guns.

Military experts here had two explanations to offer for the almost complete cessation of infantry attacks: first, that the allies are taking the first step in a plan for another forward jump by leveling away entrenched positions in a deluge of shells; or, second, that the Germans are seeking by violent artillery counter-attacks to find a weak spot by pressure on which they can relieve the strain of deeds made in their line by the Anglo-French assaults of the last few days.

General Haig reported today that his troops along a front of nearly forty miles had at various places been engaged in violent artillery actions, interspersed with German gas bomb attacks.

The French war office detailed violent bombardments in the Fleury sector, with the hurling of Germans to attack under such a curtain of fire in the Vosges. All attacks were repulsed, it was stated.

FRENCH BRING DOWN
GERMAN AEROPLANE

Paris, July 22.—Unsuccessful German attacks were reported in today's official statement. They occurred at Moulin and Soutouvent, in the form of reconnaissance assaults, then artillery bombardments near Fumini and Fleury, an organized German attack out of Demiloup and a strong assault north of Saint Die. All were repulsed.

The communique announced that a French air squadron on Friday had dropped 115 heavy shells on Metzablon, in the Vosges, doing great damage. A German aeroplane was sent to pursue the French attackers but was brought down.

The first report of any action around Belfort was contained in the statement that a German air squadron bombarded that city without damage.

The official outline of the day's fighting shows a series of desperate and unsuccessful counter-attacks by the Germans in various parts of the battle front. A strong German reconnaissance force was dispersed on the right bank of the Meuse. German artillery hurled vast quantities of shells at French positions around Fumini and Fleury and in the same sector an infantry attack was repulsed by the French troops.

The same sort of an assault was made last night north of Saint Die in the Vosges and was likewise repulsed with very heavy losses for the attacking columns.

PAT SUTTON NEED NOT PAY WIFE ALIMONY

Portland, July 22.—Patrick Sutton was relieved of paying alimony to his former wife today, following a hot sketch staged in Judge Gatens' court.

The judge was trying to have the Suttons make up, but he failed.

"Wasn't your husband affectionate to you?" he asked the woman.

"He threw me off his lap and told me I was too old to get kittenish," she retorted. "He is the first Irishman I ever met who was not a loving man. I would rather be at the bottom of the sea than married to him again."

Mrs. Sutton, who has figured in three former divorce cases, told the judge that Jack Burkman, whom she married in Vancouver after her divorce, was "some man," and "the kind that will take care of me when I grow old."

Judge Gatens ruled her marriage to Burkman was not legal, however, as six months had not elapsed since the decree was granted.

Mrs. Sutton left Burkman to wait for the time to pass.
